Media Advisory - Dr. Marla Shapiro headlines cancer prevention forum
Apr 24, 2008 - 03:05 EST

VANCOUVER, April 24 /CNW/ - Dr. Marla Shapiro, a Canadian physician, national media personality, author and breast cancer survivor will be the key note speaker at the Canadian Cancer Society's first cancer prevention forum in Vancouver.

Dr. Art Hister, best known as a health commentator on Global TV in BC and as host of House Calls on CKNW radio in Vancouver, will emcee the free public forum, which will explore the growing link between the environment and cancer.

Expert speakers will talk about pesticide use in gardening, tobacco control, and give advice on what individuals and communities can do to lower the risk of cancer.

Other speakers at the forum will include: << - Dr. David Hammond, an expert in tobacco control policy - Kathryn Seely, manager of public issues for the Society's BC and Yukon division, who is a lawyer and registered nurse with expertise in environmental carcinogens - Dr. Carolyn Gotay, a psychologist and population health expert in cancer prevention and control, newly appointed to the staff of the University of British Columbia.
