Re: Weedman woes.

I cancelled them 2 seasons ago but they still send me the we want you back letters etc. We now use <http://www.frechettelawncare.com> and have been very happy with them. They are mostly in GTA east and are not a national franchise operation.

Good luck with these folks, I cancelled them because they "included" weed picking in their offer but never did much of it, plus they were always up-selling treatments. $800 later I had enough.

Re: Weedman woes.

Registered letter went out today to the Hamilton office, who handles my area. Also called (and recorded) to confirm my cancellation request. Super-sunshine "how can I amaze you" girl turned into a *ing twat when I told her my reason for calling.

Letter basically said cancel immediately, account is paid in full, will not pay any future invoices blah, blah, blah. Now I'm actually hoping these scumbags continue to treat my lawn...

Can't we settle this over a pint?

This spring I find a pesticide sign on the lawn and a bill in my mailbox from them so I call and remind them that I cancelled the contract. They tell me they'll cancel the contract again but I still have to pay the bill or it gets sent to collections and goes on my credit report.

*How the * do I deal with these clowns? I can't even find a head office address on their website.*

*PS.
About 10 minutes after I get off the phone some guy from National whatever-the-* rings my doorbell and wants to inspect my water heater for code compliance and see if I need a new one. It took every ounce of control I could muster not to set the dog on him...*

Dude...I know exactly how you feel! I leave that type of stuff to my wife who has a lot more patience than I do.

Re: Weedman woes.

I used to get 5 calls a day from weedman, and yesterday just had one of those gas guys try to push his way into my house.

I got the calls to stop and the gas guy to leave quickly after i said, "your the reason why people get chopped up and sent across Canada"

Re: Weedman woes.

Likely not a real solution and too late now.

Maybe after the first time take them to small claims court. You decided to cancel there service to have a natural lawn but they keep coming by and spraying chemicals. Now you want you top soil replaced.
