IN NANAIMO, BRITISH COLUMBIA

NANAIMO IS THE SECOND LARGEST CITY ON VANCOUVER ISLAND IN BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA. IT HAS A POPULATION OF ALMOST 80,000. IT HAS BEEN DUBBED THE « BATHTUB RACING CAPITAL OF THE WORLD » AND « HARBOUR CITY ».

NANAIMO IS ALSO SOMETIMES REFERRED TO AS THE « HUB CITY » BECAUSE OF ITS CENTRAL LOCATION ON VANCOUVER ISLAND, AND DUE TO THE LAYOUT OF THE DOWNTOWN STREETS WHICH FORM A « HUB » PATTERN. IT IS ALSO FONDLY KNOWN AS THE « HUB, TUB, AND PUB CITY » BECAUSE OF ITS ASSOCIATION WITH THE BATHTUB RACING AND THE NUMEROUS « WATER-ING HOLES » IN OLD NANAIMO. IT IS THE SEAT OF THE REGIONAL DISTRICT OF NANAIMO.

NANAIMO IS ALSO AFFECTIONATELY KNOWN AS « THE HUB OF ENVIRONMENTAL TERROR ON VANCOUVER ISLAND ».

THE NANAIMO TOWN COUNCIL IS GENERALLY INFESTED WITH ENVIRO-MANIAC-ACTIVISTS. SOME OF THE LOCAL NEWSPAPERS, SUCH AS NANAIMO NEWS BULLETIN, ARE ALSO CORRUPTED BY ENVIRONMENTAL-TERROR.

THE FOLLOWING ENVIRONMENTAL-TERROR-ORGANIZATIONS OPERATE IN NANAIMO — CANADIAN CANCER SOCIETY, PESTICIDE ABATEMENT OR PESTICIDE ACTION NANAIMO, AND PESTICIDE FREE BC.

CRITICS QUESTION BAN ON PESTICIDES CHEMICALS NIXED IN WAR ON WEEDS

MAY 4TH, 2009

DEREK SPALDING

NANAIMO DAILY NEWS

Customers continue to buy pesticides from lawn and garden centres throughout NANAIMO, most of them unaware of the city's decision to ban chemicals used to kill weeds, insects and fungi. Once the regulations are introduced [ ... ], NANAIMO residents have about one more year before staff implement the bylaw, allowing for an intensive education [ i.e. coercion ] campaign to help lawn lovers transition to more ecological solutions.

The [ contemptible and radical ] CANADIAN CANCER SOCIETY's campaign to get municipalities across the country to ban such chemicals instigated the resurrection, which received wide support from NANAIMO's [ enviro-maniac ] politicians.

Though there has been no direct evidence linking pesticides to diseases in humans, an increasing number of [ enviro-maniac ] studies support such findings, according to health and environmental [ terror ] groups.

British Columbia Conspiracy to Prohibit Pest Control Products

The public questions why prohibition targets homeowners, while golf courses remain free to use whatever they like

NANAIMO will join at least 18 other B.C. municipalities that have banned pesticides as the province, some believe, slowly builds toward a provincial ban, similar to those adopted in QUEBEC and ONTARIO.

But such political decisions comes down to poorly planned public policy, according to pesticide PROPONENTS.

Within NANAIMO, residents question why the laws target homeowners, while businesses owners, such those who operate GOLF COURSES, remain free to use whatever they like.

Professional lawn and garden care employees will also feel an impact, but most companies rarely use pesticides, while others have already transitioned to ecologically-friendly products.

Two business owners are already predicting the ban will hurt their business because organic products simply do not work as well.

« I started out 100% organic about five years ago, but because I was expected to bring home money, I switched to ( selective pesticide use ) , » said BLAKE HOWE, of BUMBLE BEE LAWN CARE.

British Columbia Conspiracy to Prohibit Pest Control Products

*One to two years after prohibition,
Professional Lawn Care Companies lose half their clients when the weeds return*

« I was losing half my clients after a year or two when the weeds return. If there is a ban, I will have to change my business. »

[ According to Blake Howe ]

Industry experts recently spoke out about municipal and provincial bans on pesticides in CANADA.

QUEBEC has already banned the use of pesticides and ONTARIO plans to do the same. [ Government officials in Ontario now face charges of FRAUD and CONSPIRACY ! ]

The federal government backed up QUEBEC when DOW AGRO-SCIENCES threatened to sue under the NORTH AMERICAN FREE TRADE AGREEMENT for the economic hardship caused by the province's ban on lawn pesticides containing 2,4-D.

Business owners large and small will feel the impact.

OPPONENTS of pesticides have argued that the chemicals are potentially harmful and therefore should be banned. They argue that regulators refuse to remove the chemicals off the market because of the economic impact. [ Wrong ! ]

British Columbia Conspiracy to Prohibit Pest Control Products

Most communities introduce prohibition without consulting a single pesticide expert

Supporters, however, question the precautionary approach taken by [ enviro-maniac ] health and environmental lobbyists because studies HAVE NOT shown the connection between pesticide use and human disease.

Without the concrete evidence, some groups have turned to a plethora of supportive studies and public opinion, as in the 2008 IPSOS REID poll conducted for the B.C. and Yukon division of the [ contemptible and radical ] CANADIAN CANCER SOCIETY.

That survey showed that most BRITISH COLUMBIANS supported provincial legislation to restrict pesticide use. [ These were DOCTORED POLLS that were both and paid for by Environmental-Terror-Organizations ! ]

All-out bans, however, should not appear until the proof is in, according to LORNE HEPWORTH, president of CROPLIFE CANADA, the trade association that represents manufacturers, developers and distributors of pesticides.

Most communities introduce bans WITHOUT CONSULTING WITH A SINGLE PESTICIDE EXPERT, he said. Those officials subscribe to the PESTICIDE scare that has grown in recent years.

British Columbia Conspiracy to Prohibit Pest Control Products

Without conventional pest control products, there are no other tools to combat weeds

Prohibition affects the same products that are used in agricultural production

« The irony of all this : The ban affects the same products that farmers use, » he said. « So we have politics trumping good science as a basis for public safety and the environment. »

NANAIMO lawn and garden professionals use very little pesticides, according to at least three local companies.

PROWEST SERVICES owner STEVE CLARK said pesticides make up 1% of his business, but without the ability to use pesticides, when all else fails, he has no tools to combat weeds.

« It won't bother us a whole lot, but our homeowners will go back to pulling out weeds by hand, » CLARK explained.

« The ban should be against homeowners who aren't certified, not against us, who are licensed. »

Residents could be left defenceless against invading weeds and insects, which could be perceived as unfair, unless the city takes a similar approach to pesticide use.

British Columbia Conspiracy to Prohibit Pest Control Products

There are no organic selective herbicides, and there is nothing that will kill just the weed and not the grass

RICHARD NURMI lives on MARLBOROUGH DRIVE in the DEPARTURE BAY area. Though he avoids chemical use on his lawn, he used to spray the large red oak in his front yard every year to get rid of tent caterpillars that swarm the towering tree.

In recent years, he started cutting off branches consumed by the pesky critters and burning them, but he still sprays his apple, cherry, walnut and plum trees. NURMI questions why politicians would target residents, while managers of GOLF COURSES can use chemicals on their grounds.

Pesticide users, however, could be without any options, according to HOWE, who had to move from his organic model in order to keep a strong clientele base. People want to use whatever is safest, but eventually they need to use a product that works, he explained.

« There is no organic selective herbicide. They talk about horticultural vinegar and they talk about fatty acid spray. But there is nothing that will kill just the weed and not the grass, » he said.

« I know I won't do as much business with organic. As someone who's been there, it's not a great thing for lawn-care companies. »
